own mind that this bill would help in the recruitment. Remember two years ago we got up to about 95% strength. Now, this bonus money won't be spent anyway unless it does help in the recruitment area and it will be spent in low enlistment areas. As far as the money for the widow or the children, I think that if I was a young father and had children, I think that it would just be an insurance policy and it would be there if something did happen to me while I was on active duty. I would ask for the advancement of LB 564.
